DETAILED ACTION

- I. Claims 1-30 were amended in a preliminary amendment.
- II. Claims 1-30 have been restricted.

Election/Restrictions

- 1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.
- 2. This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.
- 3. In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-17, drawn to "A device for secure access to digital media contents", Class 726, subclass 2.

Group II, claim(s) 18-23, drawn to "A virtual multi-interface driver for supporting a device", Class 719, subclass 321.

Group III, claim(s) 24-30, drawn to "A system for secure access to digital media contents", Class 713, subclass 168.

- 4. The groups of inventions listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

- 5. Inventions I and II are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, subcombination I has separate utility such as performing an authentication procedure in order to provide a user with access to certain "digital media contents". See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Art Unit: 2431

6. Inventions III and I are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed (e.g. Group III does not require the "USB, SCSI, Firewire, PCMCIA, WiFi, Bluetooth, HyperLan" standards within claim 4 of Group I, Group III does not require the "reader" to be "a smart card reader" of claim 8 of Group I nor does Group III require a smart card itself, much less the interfaces: "ISO 7816, 12C, Contactless Smart Card Interface" of claim 10 of Group I, nor the biometric data within claims 12 and 13, nor is it required for the combination of Group III to have "at least one of the access means and the reader is a system-on-chip (SOC) or a single chip system"). The subcombination has separate utility such as conducting an authentication procedure via alternative means without the need for a "virtual multi-interface driver".

7. Inventions III and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed (e.g., being "capable of converting commands from a smart card command format into an SCSI command format" which the subcombination Group II utilizes within claim 22). The subcombination has separate utility such as “a virtual multi-interface driver for supporting a device having at least two device functions and being connectable to a host via a single electrical interface”.

8. The examiner has required restriction between combination and subcombination inventions. Where applicant elects a subcombination, and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

9. Restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper because all these inventions listed in this action are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious search and/or examination burden if restriction were not required because at least the following reason(s) apply:

- (i) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification.

- (ii) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter.

(iii) the inventions require a different field of search (e.g., searching different classes /subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search strategies or search queries).

10. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

11. The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

12. Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
